Preface

These arrangements came out of my work with group class in the Toledo Symphony School of Music Suzuki Program. Periodically, we combine classes of different levels. The usual performance approach is to play through the Suzuki repertoire. When the younger students have not learned the next pieces, they sit down and listen to the more advanced students perform. I thought the students would both enjoy and learn from playing together in ensemble, with each playing parts within his/her technical grasp.

Since note reading and ensemble playing pose additional challenges, I have made the parts, especially for the Pre-Twinkle and early Book 1 students, quite basic. These parts may be learned by rote. The “Twinkle” parts for early beginners consist entirely of open strings. The Violin Book 1 parts are designed for students who have completed at least the first half of Suzuki Violin School, Book 1. These parts contain low and high finger reminders to assist the students. The advanced violin part extends to fifth position and is optional. The first violin part requires knowledge of third position, while the second violin part remains in first position. The cello part extends to fourth position. The range of the viola part remains in first position but contains optional fingering utilizing third position. There is a third violin part which may be used if there are not enough violas in the ensemble. A piano part is included for rehearsal purposes and is optional for performance. Extra parts are available for purchase.

The Three B's is intended to introduce your students to the styles of Bach, Beethoven and Brahms, using quotes from some of their most famous works, and mashing them together in a unique, enjoyable musical setting.

I hope these arrangements fill a gap in available repertoire for mixed-level school and Suzuki groups. I have found them successful in my own teaching. I have chosen quality repertoire as I feel it improves the student's musicianship at all levels when the repertoire offers musical challenges.

I hope you and your students will enjoy these arrangements.
